MESSAGE FROM Fr SERGIO, Parish Priest:

God of the living, you have created us for life, love, and joy. As we share also in the cross of Jesus, in the pains and sorrows of life, keep our hope alive that your faithful love will have the final say, and that life will overcome death, for you have raised Jesus from the dead. Give us the firm longing and faith that you will raise us up with him and let this conviction be our strength every day of our life.

"He is God, not of the dead, but of the living." (Luke 20:27-38)

The Sadducees were an aristocratic party, made up mainly of the leading priestly families, but they tended to be conservative in religious matters: so they considered that only the first five books of the Bible were authoritative; and they denied the resurrection of the dead as a new-fangled belief. They decide to confront Jesus on the issue. Their ploy is to ridicule belief in resurrection from the dead. They begin by recounting the absurd story of seven brothers who, each in turn, marry the same woman, and then they pose the question: so whose wife will she be in the afterlife?

Jesus' reply is twofold: first, life in the next world is not simply a continuation of life in this, but rather the beginning of a new kind of life in which there is no more death and so no need for marriage, no need to propagating the human race.

Secondly, Jesus points to a text from the part of the Bible that Sadducees do revere. It's a passage that describes God as "the God of Abraham...Isaac and ...Jacob", but it would scarcely make sense to speak of God having a relationship with the three patriarchs Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, in fact they were no longer alive. As Jesus says, "The Lord is God of the living, not the dead."

And so he skilfully turns the insincere trick question of the Sadducees into an opportunity for proclaiming the truth of the resurrection of the dead. Of course, he does not answer all the questions we might like to ask, but already he says enough to bring us, in the words of St Paul, "inexhaustible comfort and such sure hope".

Dark November nights, the month of the Holy Souls, leaves falling from trees – all conspire to remind us that all things come to an end, including our life on this earth. But this November Mass brings us the assurance from our Lord's own lips that we too are destined for eternal life.

If there are times when we feel saddened by the thought that one day we must die, we can say with confidence, the last words of Psalm 27: "I am sure I shall see the Lord's goodness in the land of the living."

Vocations Weekend for young women on 29 Nov - 1 Dec 2019@ Liverpool

The weekend is organised by the sisters, Faithful Companions of Jesus (FCJ).

There is nothing quite like religious life – it's an extraordinary adventure into a deep relationship with God.

If you are wondering if God is calling you to religious life and would like to find out more why not come along? You are welcome to stay for the weekend or just come along on Saturday for the day. There will be opportunity for prayer, reflection and input, chance to ask questions and to meet others who are also wondering where God is calling them. For more information contact Sr Lynne fcJ at lynnefcj@hotmail.com or visit our website www.fcjsisters.org.

CREATIVE CHRISTMAS WORKSHOPS

Once again the Metropolitan Cathedral is holding its Creative Christmas Workshops. Starting on Tuesday 12 November and running for 6 weeks from 1pm – 4pm in the Gibberd Room. Remembrance Sunday – November 10th

"They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will REMEMBER THEM."

(Laurence Binyon 1914)

A two-minute silence will be observed at the beginning of each Mass.
